dedication

mr. william a. johns

With deep admiration for a man who has devoted his life to service in education, the students of Westminster College appropriately dedicate the 1958 Argo to Mr. William A. Johns. Immediately identified by his cheerful and optimistic temperament, Mr. Johns enjoys the friendship of both students and graduates.

Born near Coshocton, Ohio, Mr. Johns, acquired his grammar school experience in the rural town of Mt. Gilead, Ohio. Continuing, he attended Ohio Northern University and Ohio University. He received his Master of Science Degree from the University of Kentucky. Mr. Johns holds a Doctor of Business Administration Degree from Cumberland University, in Lebanon, Tennessee, and a Doctor of Pedagogy from Solem College, West Virginia.

Throughout his life Mr. Johns has directed his talents towards fulfilling the aspirations of young people. His positions have ranged from employment by the Department of Public Welfare in the city of Cleveland, where Mr. Johns was an instructor of juvenile delinquents, to various administrative offices such as assistant to the president of Corleton College, vice president of Evonsville College, as well as Dean of Agriculture at the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Indiana. In recognition of his contributions to the Department of Agriculture at Notre Dame, his students named a cherry orchard in his honor.

In 1913 Mr. Johns married Jane Weekly. Mr. and Mrs. Johns are the parents of two children, a son and a daughter, and grandparents of five.

Prior to his arrival at Westminster, Mr. Johns did personnel work for several educational institutions among which was the Pennsylvania Military College and Chevy Chase College. Absorbed in his work, Mr. Johns has made education both his vocation and avocation.

Coming to Westminster in January, 1932, Mr. Johns filled the office of Director of Admissions for twenty-six years. During this time he was actively engaged in what he termed, "Building the Kingdom," although his primary interest was in helping prospective students find the college which would be of most benefit to them. At the present time Mr. Johns is Director of Placement, in which capacity he serves as a vocational counselor to graduating seniors.

Mr. Johns is known for his humor spiced by a pleasant and often ironic wit. Most remarkable of all, is the modesty of this most versatile man, exemplified by the fact that he always prefers to be called "Mr." even though he possesses two doctor's degrees.

To Mr. Johns, but more so to "Mr. Westminster," we proudly devote the Argo.

The summer serenity of the campus was shattered as the freshmen arrived with car loads of belongings and were met by the Cwens and Mortarboard Women ... Bufferin sales skyrocketed as freshman tests were administered that week of orientation ... Registration had all members of the Class of '61 going around in circles or being dragged along with the masses in the Halls of Old Main ... Toward the week's end a reception was held to acquaint the newcomers with the administration and teaching staff ... A forecast of events to follow ... It wasn't long before Hell Week dawned. What "birds" these frash are ... The Tribunal crowd was in hysterics as the Frosh served their penalties as requested by the Student Cauncil jury clad in black ... "Hey everybody! Come to the Homecoming Dancell!" ... Of all the football games this season perhaps the mast notarious was the ane played on that bitter cold day when even the cheerleaders relented and bundled up ... Spiritual Emphasis Week reconfirmed many students' beliefs as Dr. Ernest Campbell led the "Westminster Family" in meditation ... The popular entertainers—Mr. Martin, Dr. Hopkins, Mr. Gamble, and Mr. Reid—brought the house down wherever they performed as a barber shop quartette ... As far as scholarship went due rewards came via Fall Convocaton where outstanding students were recognized.

The "Campus Beauties" running for the Homecoming Queen Title had many busy moments . . . Sorority open houses coincided with the introduction assembly . . . To further complicate the matter, final rush parties and the Dance of the Year were also simultaneous . . . Lois Brawdy of Chi Omega, Deanna Humphreys of Beta Sigma Omicron, Jeannette Mitchell of Sigma Kappa, Connie Simpson of Kappa Delta, Pat Trosch of Theta Upsilon, and Janet Wilson of Alpha Gamma Delta were vexed by a rather different contender for the crown . . . He really had them worried until the awarding of the crown to Jeannette Mitchell . . . The culprit, Ed Towns, was representing that boisterous group, the Alpha Sigs . . . An epidemic of Flu kept some from attending the Dance at which Queen Jeannette reigned, but even so the 1957 Dance of the Year was better than ever before . . . Homecoming day dawned with most sorority girls and fraternity men right out there as eyewitnesses . . . Everyone was trying to meet the deadline set by Council for the judging to begin . . . Amid whoops of laughter the Kangaroo, L'il Lulu, the Space Ship, Train, and Volcano, to mention a few, were erected . . . "To Express Our Welcome" earned first place honors for Alpha Gamma Delta . . . Lois Reed, chairman of decorations, is shown "expressing" her joy upon receiving the cup . . . Sigma Kappa's display rated honorable mention . . . Alpha Sigma Phi's "Titan Shooting Gallery" brought the first place fraternity cup their way and Sigma Nu took second honors . . .

Winter at Westminster was no "dormant" season as the co-eds were forced to jump ditches to and from classes . . . When the dread day came for the sorority girls to leave for the dormitory most of the campus was quite amused at seeing such a "moving sight" . . . One of the most impressive Vesper services of the year came just before Christmas vacation . . . Everyone will undoubtedly remember vividly the candlelight service in the chapel . . . The students took every opportunity to carol prior to Christmas vacation . . . The Cwens, for instance, contributed an early morning sing . . . After the holidays the college set was back to its old habits — playing bridge in the TUB, forming the stag lines at record hops, and studying when they had a free moment . . . Can you recall the week end of the Big Snow when the college's own snow skyrocket, Sputnik, appeared in the Quadrangle and the women were delighted at being allowed to wear slacks to classes until the cold wave lifted . . . Congratulations to Janet Wilson who won the title of Sophomore Queen this year . . . Fraternity house parties were standout occasions in many girls' minds . . . Basketball games stole the limelight as the Titans brought the fans many thrilling moments . . . Remember Dave Rankin's breaking the scoring record? . . . What could have been more exciting than the Panther-Titan clash and more entertaining than Chuckie Davis' talent shows on the court . . . To odd spice to the students' lives, this season the measles invaded the campus.

Suddenly one day "Springitus" took the campus by surprise and no longer were the young men's fancies limited to football and basketball . . . Perhaps the greatest spreader of that dread spring disease was the grass cutting machine as it cast the aroma of new mown hay to all ends of the campi . . . Couples took long walks through the country and picnics in the town park and college woods became the rage for most organizations . . . Greek Weekend found everyone in the mood for a night at the CARNIVAL . . . The "fraternity" skits were a riot and very unique . . . Spring Convocation was held to honor the superior students . . . Shortly after, Tap Day arrived when the candidates for the honoraries on campus were publicly invited into membership . . . This year Easter came during spring vacation . . . Before the Chi O's left they conducted their annual Easter Egg Hunt for the faculty children at their deserted sorority house grounds . . . Then one day in chapel the girls running for the title of May Queen were introduced and voted upon by the entire student body . . . Last year's lovely Queen Carol Paulie crowned this year's selection as the queens from previous years watched the May Day festivities on May 31 . . . After four long, wonderfully happy years the seniors commenced their new lives in the "outside world" . . . The members of the Class of '58 are going to be missed around here!!

Endowed with the unique qualities essential to his office, Dr. Orr is approaching the end of his first decade as President of Westminster College.

Charlotte, North Carolina was the site of Dr. Orr's early life. Upon graduation from high school in Charlotte, he attended Erskine College where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree. In 1931, he attained a Bachelor of Divinity degree from Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary. Dr. Orr now holds three honorary degrees: the Doctor of Divinity from Sterling College, Kansas; the Doctor of Literature from Carroll College, Wisconsin; and the Doctor of Laws from Waynesburg College.

Insight into Dr. Orr's background reveals a diversity of accomplishments. Upon his graduation from Erskine College, he became an instructor of science in the Statesville, North Carolina, high school. This position, held for a year, terminated when he became superintendent of a group of Mecklenburg County Schools. Following completion of his post-graduate work at Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary, Dr. Orr was called to the pastorate of the First United Presbyterian Church of Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, in May of 1931.

Dr. Orr married Eloise Reid of Charlotte, North Carolina, in 1933. Since this time the Orr's have traveled extensively over all of Europe, the British Isles, and the Near East. Dr. and Mrs. Orr have three children, two boys and a girl.

The Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Des Moines, Iowa welcomed Dr. Orr's services in 1939. Under his outstanding leadership, the church was able to free itself from a sizable debt, and increase its membership over five times its original number. While in Des Moines, Dr. and Mrs. Orr developed the "Youth Club Plan," consisting of a week day Religious Education program providing Bible study, choir music, and recreation for youth between the ages of 10 and 15. Today this Youth Club program is being promoted on a nation-wide scale by the United Presbyterian Church.

In 1949 Dr. Orr arrived at Westminster College and began soon after to plan for the centennial anniversary of the College, which was observed in 1952. During Dr. Orr's administration a campaign for funds, without the aid of professional money-raisers, has totaled well over a million dollars. Five new buildings have been erected and are in current use. A new field house and athletic field have also been constructed as well as a dormitory for men. Funds were raised for a new Student Union building, and a Fine Arts building is well advanced in the blueprint stage. Co-ordinating building pursuits with academic progression, Dr. Orr has secured meritable salary increases for the faculty.

Diversion from a demanding schedule finds Dr. Orr enjoying hobbies that include photography, miniature trains and stamps.

Through the efforts of Dr. Will Orr, Westminster College has realized many objectives both tangible and intangible.

dean of women

Mrs. Martha B. Whitehill represents the ideal pattern of womanhood at Westminster College. Possessing the traits essential to success in her work, Mrs. Whitehill holds the confidence of each woman on campus.

Graduating from Grove City College, Mrs. Whitehill began a teaching career as an instructor in Pennsylvania schools. Her work was altered following her marriage, but after World War II she resumed teaching in the Aliquippa school district. Enjoying a talent for music, Mrs. Whitehill taught voice and directed numerous choruses and choirs.

Upon arrival at Westminster in September, 1949, Mrs. Whitehill was for six years residence director of Ferguson Hall. During the last three years she has devoted herself completely to the office of Dean of Women.

Because counseling constitutes the major part of her work, Mrs. Whitehill gains an insight to student problems through her position as advisor to Student Council, Student Conduct Committee and various women's organizations. Contributing assistance to the students has been her objective, a goal which has undoubtedly been attained.

Accompanying her counseling job, Mrs. Whitehill also capably sponsors groups such as the extra-curricular life committee, which is a group responsible for the organization of the social calendar for the academic year.

Mrs. Whitehill is motivated by a strong purpose which is revealed as she says, "I would like to dedicate my best in developing the best in young women."

dean of men

Mr. James L. Smith joined the staff of Westminster College in September, 1956. Prior to his appointment as Dean of Men, Mr. Smith served the college as residence director of Russell Hall and as an instructor in the Mathematics Department. While occupying these positions, he maintained close associations with the student body who now hold him in high regard. Mr. Smith's interest in student welfare was reflected in the work that he did last year in advisory capacity to Phoenix and the Sophomore Class.

Mr. Smith accepted the post of Dean of Men in June, 1957. He acts as advisor to Student Council and Inter-Fraternity Council and is also fulfilling a second term as Phoenix counselor.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of the University of Louisville where he obtained his A.B. degree with honors in Mathematics. While in college he excelled in intramural sports and was a member of the varsity swimming team. Following graduation, Mr. Smith entered the United States Marine Corps where he achieved the rank of officer. Upon release from the service, Mr. Smith enrolled as a graduate student at the University of Pittsburgh where he was granted an assistantship and in August of 1955 received his Master of Science degree in Mathematics. At the present time Mr. Smith is striving to attain his Ph.D.

Adopting a background of valuable experience and knowledge to the office of Dean of Men, Mr. Smith is acquiring a record of sincere devotion and inexhaustible service to Westminster College.

dean of admissions

One of the most highly thought of administrators at Westminster College is Dr. John R. Edwards Jr. who faces a vitally important situation in his new post of Director of Admissions. Following three years of service to the college as Dean of Men, Dr. Edwards was promoted to the position of Director of Admissions in June of 1957. Since his arrival on campus in 1952 Dr. Edwards has taught psychology and education and served as residence director of Russell Hall. Dr. Edwards received his B.S. at Kent State University, his Master of Science at Ohio University, and Ph.D. at the University of Pittsburgh. Prior to coming to Westminster Dr. Edwards counseled and taught at Braakfield High School, was principal of the Avalon Schools, and served in the armed services overseas.

The increased capacity for enrollment necessitates that Dean Edwards make many "goad will" visits speaking at "College Night" programs. Interviewing hopeful students on and off campus gives Dr. Edwards an unusually full schedule. His cordial manner and unquestionable integrity are excellent qualities for meeting the public and familiarizing the potential students with the Christian College. In his chief responsibility, that of insuring maximum enrollment, Dr. Edwards works cooperatively with a special Admissions Committee. Dean Edwards also served this year on the President's Advisory Committee and the Scholarship Committee.

Dr. John H. Forry has become well known and respected by the students through his work in the scholastic realm. A graduate of Millersville State Teachers College, Dean Forry took graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania for his Master's degree and at the University of Pittsburgh for his Doctorate.

Westminster welcomed Dr. Forry as an English instructor in 1946. In 1949 he was promoted to the rank of assistant professor and continued in that capacity until he was elevated to the position of academic dean and professor of English in 1953.

Keeping tabs on all the students for academic work is no easy job. However, Dr. Forry handles it well and finds time for his other responsibilities. As academic dean, Dr. Forry serves on numerous committees, coordinates the curriculum, assists in planning registration procedures, and assigns students to advisors, seeing that they enter into the major field of their choice. In addition, the Dean teaches one course, Shakespeare, and acts as special advisor for Shakespeare productions.

His favorite hobbies are gardening, hunting, and playing tennis.

"Art for the sake of art" expresses the enthusiasm and describes the theme of the art department. At present the art curriculum is a basic course giving the student a fundamental understanding of the meaning of art.

Courses in painting and drawing, basic art history, and ceramics are offered. Any kind of art course can accomplish no more than to help the student in developing his own potential.

Upon the completion of the new Fine Arts Building, adequate facilities for a complete program in art history, painting, and a basic course in commercial art will be made available. Since this improved department is yet in the planning stage, the department is continuing to function by strengthening basic courses and preparing for the renovation of the department. When the program is completed adequate training of students interested in teaching on the college level will be the chief aim of the art section.

Mr. Carl H. Larsen, a newcomer to the faculty, is the department's instructor. In order to bring art to the fore he displays student work in the library for the interest of the student body.

Mr. Larsen puts the finishing strokes on a recent painting of a coastal village.

bible-philosophy

The "greatest book ever written" takes on a new and significant meaning to all students through the Bible Department. The chief aim of the Bible Department is to increase and organize the students' knowledge of the Bible, and in doing this, strengthen his loyalty to the ideals of the Book. The courses offered help prepare the student for Christian service and for graduate work in the field of religion. In the philosophy courses the student becomes acquainted with the great thinkers and systems of the past so he can develop a true and wholesome philosophy of life as it exists today.

Four members of the faculty devote their teaching to religion. They are the following: Dr. Wayne H. Christy, chairman of the department; Dr. Joseph M. Hopkins, associate professor; Dr. Norman R. Adams, associate professor; and Mr. Thomas M. Gregory, assistant professor.

Believing that training for pre-seminary students should be well-rounded, the department recommends such combination majors as Bible-psychology-philosophy, Bible-history, or Bible-Greek.

The Bible department assists the pre-ministerial group, Karux, and promotes Christian Service Groups and Christian Youth Fellowship.

The study of LIFE and its understanding, is the main goal of the biology department. Majors in this field are prepared for graduate work in areas of medicine, dentistry, nursing, and medical technology. Teaching is also included in the goal of the department as many students strive for high school teaching certificates in this field. General biology is open to non-majors interested in learning more about themselves and the world about them.

Dr. Vergeer, chairman of the department, Mrs. Lucille Frey, assistant professor of biology, and Dr. Cleo Hummel, visiting professor, constitute the teaching staff.

Jameson Memorial Hospital Nurses Program under the direction of Dr. Vergeer offers courses at the college to supplement instruction at the hospital.

This year the physiological section has acquired new equipment which will be of added assistance to the students. Related supplementary work includes tours of water works and milk plants as well as hospitals.

Beta Beta Beta, the biology honorary sponsors a blood typing program each spring in affiliation with the Jameson Memorial Hospital blood bank. Test results are recorded for future reference by the college and hospital. Jim McCreedy holds the office of president in this recognition group.

Miss Gomble demonstrates the speed of electric typing under the critical eyes of Mr. Galbreath and Miss Hileman.

"Automation" seems to be the trend in the business department where one can find such modern equipment as electric typewriters. This department at Westminster is an advanced one as compared to the business education departments at many district schools. As a direct result of encouraging the four-year business education curriculum above the two-year secretarial, the department now boasts forty-one new business majors. In light of this expansion, the department is planning for a reorientation of the four-year plan. In this way the students enrolled in the business course will be better equipped for executive and supervisory capacities. However, the business course prepares students for any type of work they may encounter.

The three professors responsible for the success of this business education program are Mr. Robert F. Galbreath, assistant professor of business education and chairman of the department, Miss Elsie Hileman and Miss Margaret E. Gamble, instructors in business education.

Mr. Galbreath is very interested in new audio-visual aids used in the classroom such as photographing students at work. The typists are especially helped in perfecting their technique by seeing themselves "in motion." Mr. Galbreath also applies another technique of visual aid through cartooning.

Rho Gamma, the honorary sponsored by this department, provides its members with many opportunities for practical experience in the business world.

Dr. DeWitt points out an interesting fact to staff members Mr. Carney and Dr. DeHaas.

One needs only to dash through the Science Hall to realize the students are hard at work on interesting experiments. There are, at present, eight senior chemistry majors and forty-five students enrolled in chemistry. The majority of these science majors will go on to complete their studies in graduate school.

Many of the students in this field are members of the chemistry club, affiliated with the American Chemical Society. The group holds monthly meetings and sponsors various tours, including trips to Mallory Sharon Titanium Corporation, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, American Cyanamid Company, and the Pennsylvania Railroad yards in Conway. Reports on summer employment in chemistry, speakers, and freshman initiation highlight the chemistry club's meetings, which are presided over by Richard Dangle.

Three men constitute this department's teaching staff. Dr. H. D. DeWitt is chairman of the department and is, at the present time, beginning work upon a cancer research program for the National Institute of Health. Dr. DeHaas serves in the capacity of assistant professor and Dr. E. Seaton Carney, as professor of chemistry and physics.

economics-business administration

One is likely to find the business administration major hard at work scanning the daily paper for the stock exchange section. This department now boasts an enrollment of one hundred and seventy-six students in the total of twenty-seven courses offered. Upon graduation these majors are equipped to enter labor leadership, government, and teaching. A number of business administration majors continue their studies in graduate school.

Mr. Captain W. McKee, now on leave of absence, is chairman of the department. Mr. Samuel H. Slaan, acting chairman, teaches personnel management, money and banking, seminar, and financial management; Mr. A. N. Spanseller, assistant professor, teaches principles of accounting, statistics, business organization; Mr. Charles W. Carlson, assistant professor, teaches accounting; and Mr. Ronald Janes, part-time instructor, teaches business law.

Among other things, the department aims to give the student an understanding of the major current business issues, an appreciation of the social and political side of economics and business, a high sense of integrity, responsibility and competence in procedures connected with his major.

The economics-business administration department poses for the Argo photographer.

Dr. Bleasby passes on a humarous experience to staff members.

One who passes by the English Department must be careful of his conversation, for who knows what English major may capture his dialogue for his author's notebook. A keener appreciation of the English language evolves through understanding literature as well as the mechanics and scape of writing. Students are encouraged to get practical experience on the staffs of the three literary publications spanared by the department: the Argo, the college yearbaak; the Holcad, the weekly newspaper; and Scrawl, the campus literary magazine.

The English department's staff is the largest in the history of the Callege and includes: Dr. George Bleasby, professor and chairman of the department; Dr. Jahn H. Forry, professor; Dr. Myrta E. McGinnis, professor; Dr. George W. Cobb, associate professor, Dr. Charles H. Caok, assaciate professor; Mr. William Scheuerle, instructor; Miss Elizabeth S. Keen, instnctor of English and journalism; Mr. Vernon Wanty, instructor; and Mr. Daniel E. Wilson, instructor.

Other activities are spanored by the department such as the annual Poetry Reading Festival during the fall semester, the Freshman Writing Award given at the end of the freshman year, and a handy directory of addresses, Information Please. Scroll is the honorary affiliated with the English department.

Many students are preparing themselves far advanced wark at graduate school while others will enter various occupations such as library wark and teaching. This department also provides for an English-fareign language major.

"May I psycho-analyze you" is a familiar question kiddingly asked by psychology majors on campus. Since a broader education in the "science of human nature" is desirable for almost every field the student will enter, psychology is a vital part of the Westminster College Curriculum.

In addition to providing a good background for non-majors, the department of education and psychology prepares students for teaching in public, elementary, and secondary schools and for studying on the graduate level.

The professors directly associated with this department are the following: Dr. Lewis H. Wagenhorst, department chairman; Dr. Charles Saylor, professor; Dr. Joseph Henderson, professor; Dr. Allen M. Schmuller, associate professor of psychology; Mr. Claude Eckman, assistant professor of psychology; Mrs. Mary A. Barbour, instructor; Mrs. Margaret Meins, instructor; and Miss Katherine Scent, instructor of psychology.

The three organizations sponsored by the education and psychology department are as follows: Kappa Delta Pi, the national education honorary; Iota Delta, the local psychology honorary; and the Student Education Association of Pennsylvania which replaces the former Future Teachers Association.

More students are enrolled in education than in any other single field. This is in itself an indication of the prominence it retains in the academic program. One of the numerous activities provided by the department is the Mid-western Teachers' Convention in New Castle which the junior and senior education majors attend each fall.

education-psychology

Staff members focus their attention on Department Chairman Dr. Wagenhorst.

languages

"Quien Sabe" or some similar foreign phrase might well reach the ears of students passing the language department. The department's chief aim is to give the student an understanding of the structure of the language being studied and to augment his understanding of the structure of his own language. This field is both practical and personally satisfying. Specialized training for teachers of ancient and modern languages is made available by the department's five professors. The current widespread interest in travel draws many students to the language department.

The language professors include: Dr. J. Hilton Turner, chairman of the department and professor of Greek and Latin; Miss Alice Ligo, assistant professor of French; Mr. Thomas R. Wiley, assistant professor of Spanish; Mr. Walter Biberich, assistant professor of German; and Mr. Josef H. Wiehr, instructor of German.

A combination major, such as a language and English is often found in this department. These majors usually prepare to teach in the secondary schools. However, the teaching of a foreign language in the elementary grades is fast becoming popular. Several students are presently interested in this particular field. Other students are enrolled in language courses so that they will be better prepared for business positions and professional occupations.

Members of the language department ponder over the year's accomplishments: L. TO R.: Dr. Turner, Mr. Wiley, Miss Ligo, and Mr. Wiehr.

history-political science-sociology

Each day adds a new page to the textbook of the history majors who might be said to "study what they live." Clarification of the world situation and stressing the importance of the United Nations as a power for world peace are two of the major objectives of the History Department. This year, through special United Nations Week Chapel programs, films and slides, displays in the tower room, and a radio program, they expressed their objectives very well.

Faisal M. Damluji, member of Iraqi Parliament, United States Congressman Clark, Pennsylvania Congressman Fox, and Dean Jefferson Fordham of Pennsylvania Law School were some of the speakers secured by the department during this school year. A series of speakers was procured for the sociology classes by Mr. Wolcott, who is credited with organizing a sociology club this year.

In order to enlarge the college library the department obtained microfilm from the National Archives. Dr. James Duran received a grant of $150 from the Committee on Research of the American Philosophical Society which he used in purchasing microfilm for research in Russian History of the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

The five faculty members comprising this department are: Dr. Delber McKee, professor in history and departmental chairman; Dr. Arthur Jensen, associate professor; Dr. James Duran, assistant professor; Dr. Charles Edwards, assistant professor; and Mr. Roger Wolcott, Instructor in sociology.

Phi Alpha Theta, presided over by Myrtle Shaheen, is the honorary under the auspices of the history department. This year Phi Alpha Theta sponsored a student-wide trip to our nation's capital. The International Relations Club, headed by Calvin McCracken, sponsored a Hungarian exchange student the second semester of this year.

"Break time" for members of the Mathematics Department.

The days of "2 plus 2" have long been forgotten by the math majors for now this elementary principle has become an insignificant unit in the complex thinking of their minds. Students majoring in mathematics are working either for the B.A. or the B.S. degree as this department aids in developing powers of independent and logical thinking. The conscientious student may find work in this subject a real asset to forming habits of accurate and precise expression. The Mathematics Department prepares students in the natural and social sciences where they use the mathematical tools peculiar to their field. Preparation is given to students anticipating careers in teaching, research, and industry.

Mr. Paul E. Brown, assistant professor of mathematics, is acting chairman of the department. Mr. James L. Smith and Miss Charlene Stewart both serve in the capacity of instructors in mathematics.

A number of extra courses are offered for majors and other qualified students. When a student's high school background has been broad, an accelerated plan is available which enables him to complete the course in calculus by the end of the sophomore year.

The department sponsors a chapter of Kappa Mu Epsilon, national honorary in mathematics. This organization is responsible for many interesting and varied activities.

The "passer by" of the Conservatory might be somewhat startled by the mingled strains of brass and string instruments and a vocalist or two. There is hardly a moment, day or evening, when the "Conserv" is completely quiet. Instruction in voice, piano, organ, brass, string, and woodwind instruments is given by the department's seven professors.

Serving in the capacity of Conservatory Director, Band and Orchestra Director, and instructor in violin and theory, is Mr. Donald O. Cameron. Miss Ada Peabody, an associate professor, instructs major classes in music education. Also holding the position of associate professor is Miss Dorothy Kirkbride, who teaches piano and theory. Mr. Clarence Martin, in his capacity of instructor, teaches voice and directs both the Concert Choir and Vesper Choir. The department's organ professor is Mr. Raymond Ocock. The one newcomer to the music staff is Mr. Isaac Reid who is serving as a voice instructor. Mr. Dallmeyer Russell is an instructor in piano.

An active chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honorary for women, is established on campus with Sydne Falk as president this year. Another organization to which the music majors have access is the Music Educators National Conference.

This spring, the music department again presented a band concert at which the noted guest soloist Raphael Mendez was featured. The department sponsors several guests for chapel programs and special performances throughout the year.

During spring vacation the Concert Choir again toured various cities throughout the country, including Chicago, Cleveland, and Detroit.

The "new look" in this age has been toward stronger emphasis on scientific phenomena, and thus the aims of the physics department have become extensive ones.

Primarily this department provides the necessary scientific background for students desiring to take graduate work in this field, students working toward an engineering degree through the cooperative plan in practice at the College, students wanting to teach physics, or students planning to enter medical school. Many courses in physics of a historical, cultural, and practical nature are made available for non-science majors. Acoustics for Music Majors, Heat, Light, Meteorology, Radio and Electronics, Electricity and Magnetism, and Kinetic Theory are but a few subjects offered to the students.

Included in the physics staff are Dr. Robert M. Woods, chairman, Dr. John Albright, Dr. J. Seaton Carney, and Mr. William Davis. Dr. Carney serves in a part time teaching capacity. The only new addition to the staff this year is Mr. Davis.

This year there are approximately twelve majors excluding the freshman physics majors. Although many students are preparing for the careers mentioned above, the majority go into industrial and research work upon graduation.

Phi Zeta Chi is the local physics honorary on campus under the sponsorship of the department. This year's membership totals fifteen students who are working toward membership in the national organization, Sigma Pi Sigma.

Dr. Woods demonstrates a new piece of equipment to members of the physics department.

Mr. Garland, Mr. Ridl, Mr. Washabaugh, and Mr. Burry pose before the trophy case in the Field House.

physical education

"Old 77" serves as the central theme for our Physical Education Department directed by Mr. Grover C. Washabaugh. A diversified program for men and women is sponsored by this department. One will recall memories of tank suit days and "running the mile." Serving on this department's staff of teachers are the following: Mr. Charles "Buzz" Ridl, assistant professor, coach of basketball, baseball, and assistant in football; Mr. Harold E. Burry, assistant professor and coach of the football team; Miss Morilyn E. Dimitroff, instructor in physical education; Miss Lois Cornohon, instructor in physical education; and Mr. Billie Garland, house director at Russell Hall and with Miss Cornohon a newcomer to the Physical Education staff. Miss Carnahan comes to Westminster with a B.B. in Physical Education from Slippery Rock State Teachers College, and Mr. Garland's qualifications are revealed in his B.B. in Physical Education and his Masters degree in Physical Education from the University of Indiana.

Included in the departmental program are three phases of sports and health studies; Health Service and Instruction, Intramural Sports for both men and women, and Intercollegiate Athletics. In all competition physical, recreational, and moral welfare are promoted strengthening the student's sportsmanship and developing team play, confidence, coordination, and good citizenship.

The college, in coordination with this department, sponsors intercollegiate athletic teams for men in basketball, football, baseball, cross-country, golf, tennis, track, and swimming.

The Women's Athletic Association, including the Mermaids Club and the cheerleaders, are under the sponsorship of this department. The men's division maintains for Westminster membership in NCAA and NAIA.

Miss Carnahan and Miss Dimitroff relax between classes.

As the "curtain goes up" on the speech department one finds the staff increased by one and including three new additions. Mr. Donald L. Barbe is chairman of the department, Mr. William Brubick is assistant professor, and Miss Leane M. Westover is instructor, with newcomers Miss Norma Langham, Mr. Robert Hall, and Mr. Robert Darrell. Speech correction, oral interpretation, and advanced public speaking are but a few of the regular courses offered in speech and dramatic art. Principles of television is now being offered and will be enlarged upon with the completion of the new Fine Arts Building.

All the productions this year were aimed at helping to finance the Fine Arts Building which may be finished by 1960 and which will have provision for this department. The four Little Theater productions staged this season were Time Out for Ginger, Another Part of the Forest, Hamlet, and An Evening of One Acts. Mr. Hall directed the 4:20 Theater this school year.

The members of the debate team under the direction of Mr. Darrell entered twelve debates this season and attended the National Convention. The Collegiate Guild of the Air under the direction of Miss Langham assisted in the production of the radio shows going out over stations WPIC and WKST. Afternoon speech clinics and the big project of audio testing each of the freshmen were again under the direction of Miss Westover.

Several speech recitals were presented by the junior and senior majors. In fulfillment of a new requirement the sophomore speech majors presented short recitals. Throughout the year many programs such as short plays, selected interpretations, and skits were given at service clubs and organizations.

The department's honoraries, Alpha Psi Omega, and Masquers, sponsored a "Revue" this spring which covered the period from the Gay Nineties to modern musicals in song and dance. Oscars were presented at the group's annual spring banquet. The year's meetings featured dramatic presentations, picnics, and parties.

In the course of the academic year, Student Council members became absorbed in the powers of their governing body, and conscious of the function that a student council should serve. Attempting to improve the financial position of the council resulted in the adoption of an independent treasury proposal. Additional stimulation of campus interest was the product of a new procedure involving school-wide election of Student Council officers. Serving as a channel for voicing student opinion, the representatives were successful in making the facilities of the library available for added service on Friday evenings and during athletic events.

Student Council also competently handled such traditional events as Sing and Swing, Hell Week, Vocational Guidance Day, and Homecoming Weekend. In seeking a solution to the problem of sorority decorations for Homecoming, the body announced a regulation providing for floats to be used in place of house decorations.

Under the leadership of president, Bob Campbell, Student Council concluded a full and rewarding year.

The members of "the ten" select groups on campus have contributed much toward integrating the students and administration. Panhellenic Council, and Interfraternity Council are indelible organizations. They serve to unite the students and govern campus affairs. Three honoraries hold a focal place on campus—Cwens, Mortar Board, and Phoenix. Members of Who's Who in American Colleges and Black "W" round out these outstanding groups in all phases of campus life.

The representative governing body for resident women is called Senate. It is composed of sixteen girls elected from the dormitories and sorority suites. Senate's primary purposes are to formulate and enforce women's regulations, to foster high social standards on the campus, and to promote the best interests of the students.

Senate is greatly appreciated each year when Midnight Movie time rolls around. Also, they carry out an annual project through which they contribute something to the college. The advisors this year were Mrs. Martha Whitehill, Miss Alice Ligo, and Miss Elsie Hilemon. Ann McDowell was president for this year.

Doughnut Day is a popular event on our campus each year. It is sponsored by Mortarboard, the national senior women's honorary. The members of Mortarboard are chosen on the basis of scholarship, quality of activities, and personality. They carry on throughout the year, a program of counselling for freshman women. Mortarboard's main aim is to help students in becoming more interested in culture. The sparkling ideas of these girls may be due to their meeting hour: 10 p.m.

The advisors this year were Mrs. Martha Whitehill, Miss Marilyn Dimitroff, and Mrs. Paul Musser. Roberta Foster served as president.

The recently established men's hanorary, Phoenix, has cansciausly served the campus during the one year it has been established at Westminster. Under the leadership of President David Reed the eleven member group helped orientate the freshmen, ushered at chapel, and sold programs at football games. The men in this main campus hanorary also act as scholastic advisors to any men who request assistance along academic lines.

Phaenix is striving ta become affiliated with Omicron Delta Kappa, National Men's Hanorary. They have already submitted their first petition far a charter.

The honor of being named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities has been bestowed upon fifteen seniors this year. This representative group is selected by delegates from various campus groups and Student Council. The qualities that are carefully considered are scholarship, leadership, character, personality, and potentiality. We congratulate these outstanding senior men and women.

Some of the most familiar sights on Westminster's campus are the white sweaters bearing the red crown and scepter of Cwens. The members of this sophomore women's honorary are chosen each year for leadership, character, scholarship, and service to the school. The Cwens' main function is to be helpful to freshman women, beginning with a warm welcome and a helping hand through Freshman Week. This year's sixteen Cwens had an active year, selling mums on Homecoming Day and corsages on Parents' Day, holding cookie sales, sponsoring the Underwater Whirl and the tea for freshman women. The president was Carol Davidson, and the chapter was advised by Mrs. Martha Whitehill and Miss Jane Hawkins.

Pi Sigma Pi, local scholastic honorary, selects its members from students who have attained an average of 2.4 or better at the end of five semesters of work and who are eligible for the B.A., B.S., and B.M. degrees. The popular "book drive" is sponsored by this honorary every year with the purpose of increasing the volumes in McGill Library. Faculty members who are affiliated with Phi Beta Kappa or Pi Sigma Pi are members of this organization. The aim and hope of this honorary is to become a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. block w

Block "W" is the varsity athletic organization at Westminster. Requirements for membership are participating in at least two of the seven varsity teams on campus, and earning a letter in two or more of these.

The main purposes of Block "W" are to help maintain the scholastic averages of Westminster's athletes and to suggest ways of improving their academic standards. In the future, this group hopes to sponsor dances, and to sell programs at athletic contests.

This year's officers were Jim Dewar, president; Glenn Smith, vice president; Ray Tudor, secretary; and Dave Edwards, treasurer, with Sam Sloan as sponsor.

Staff members of the four campus publications work feverishly to construct periodicals of which the students and administration can be proud. To insure a memorable year in the annals of Westminster is the main responsibility of the Argo, Holcad, Scrawl, and Information Please. Inquisitive reporters capture life at Westminster as it really exists with its trials, happy moments, and hilarious aspects. The work they do is essential, and appreciated.

You can't put a college—or even a senior year—into the pages of a book. But we think that you, who know the places and people and events described and pictured here, will find a thousand memories wrapped in the pages of this year's ARGO. And we hope that those memories will come flocking back, just as clear and fresh, when you look through these pages years from now.

The ARGO staff has enjoyed working on this 1958 edition and has found it a valuable experience. May it be of value to you, the college family, as well.

information please

Each fall the college students publish a handy "Who's Who on Campus" booklet which is essentially a directory of home addresses and fraternity listings. Information Please is distributed to the students and administration in the nick of time for sending out personal Christmas cards.

Not only the residences of students but also those of the faculty members and administrative officials can readily be found in this directory. Another convenient feature of Information Please is the social calendar for the year which is arranged by the extra-curricular committee.

Seventeen honoraries on campus recognize the top students in various fields of academic achievement. In addition to honoring conscientious, superior workers these groups are of real benefit to the college. Beta Beta Beta offers free blood tests to the students, and Alpha Psi Omega with Masquers sponsored a "Gay Nineties Revue." The honoraries established on campus give the students an incentive to do their maximum work injecting just the right amount of competition among the students.

concert choir

Numerous students seek diversion from their studies in Christian, athletic, and music groups. Here they have rewarding experiences and a chance to find themselves. The adept at swimming gain recognition in Mermaids, the musically inclined join the band and choir, and many find solace and fellowship in the Youth Fellowship, Bible Class, and YWCA. The fellows, in particular, seek a change of pace in intramural competition on the gridiron, basketball court, and baseball diamond although the co-eds, too, enjoy W.A.A., sports, intramurals, and the tennis tournaments. These extra-curricular pursuits help the students become well-raunded adults.

One of the institutions of campus life is the College Choir. Sunday night Vespers services would seem empty indeed without the choir in its familiar blue and white robes. Under Mr. Martin's capable direction, and with Mr. Ocock at the organ, the choir leads the congregation in singing and inspires our worship with beautiful anthems.

The Concert Choir is a smaller group which, in addition to singing numerous programs in the New Wilmington area, goes on tour in the spring. This year the choir presented concerts in churches and schools in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois.

student conduct committee

The Student Conduct Committee is composed of four students and four teachers. There are two members from Senate, one from IFC, and one from Student Council. The task of this representative group is to deal with cases of misconduct by students on or off campus. The committee hears cases and then makes recommendations of disciplinary action.

little theater

Under the experienced direction of Mr. Donald Barbe, Mr. Robert Hall, Mr. William Burbick, Miss Narma Langham, and Dr. John Farry, four major Little Theater series plays were staged including: the freshman production, Time Out for Ginger; Another Part of the Forest; Hamlet; and Lady Windermere's Fan. Hamlet was a great contributor to the Fine Arts' Building fund drive. Appearing again after five years, in the guise of Hamlet was Cray Pitzer.

The department awarded "Oscars" to the following students last year: Dan Hudson, best actor; Jacqueline Walker, best actress; Frank Wilgocki, best supporting actor; and Carol Roberts, best supporting actress.

The honoraries Alpha Psi Omega and Masquers, Little Theater sponsored, organized the "Gay Nineties Revue" for which Mr. Burbick and Alpha Psi President Bev Bemiss worked tirelessly.

The Little Theater took plays and shows "on the road" making stops in Sharon, Mercer, and New Castle.

"Big Name Show," "Westminster Calling," and "Campus Showcase" were broadcast from the radio studio, and ten TV presentations featured various departments in the college. The Speech Department now has complete studio facilities for all students interested in radio and TV work.

pan-hellenic council

Pan-Hellenic Council, the coordinating body for the six sororities on campus, is composed of two representatives from each of these groups, one being the president and the other, an elected member.

The main function of Pan-Hell is to compile and execute regulations for rushing orientation, sorority pledging, and initiation. Among the activities in which the group participates is a yearly fashion show. A member of the Pan-Hell board is chairman of this affair and models are drawn from members of the Greek groups. Pan-Hell also holds a special program in the spring for newly elected officers of all organizations. This orientation is of real value to those interested in familiarizing themselves with parliamentary procedure. Pan-Hellenic Council in co-operation with the Interfraternity Council develops a framework for carrying out effectively the Greek Weekend activities. Making plans for the arrangement of sorority suites for the next school year has been one of Pan-Hell's main projects this year.

This year's officers are as follows: Doris Barnshaw, president; Aliceann Rea, vice-president; Marlene Wasser, secretary, and Beverly Johnson, treasurer.

The supervisory and governing organization representing the four fraternities on campus, Interfraternity Council, was presided over by Thomas Parks this year. The other three official posts were held by: Donald Scott, vice-president; Alan Wheeler, secretary; and David Marsico, treasurer. Interfraternity Council is a closely knit group composed of two representatives of each fraternity in addition to the president and aims at co-operation among the college men.

IFC establishes and administers the policies of the Greek organizations pertaining to rushing and pledgship and in so doing, not only "rules" but "promotes" co-operation among the members of all the groups. The fraternity council is the chief representative body to inter-mediate between the fraternities and the college.

Among the list of activities entered into by the council are the Interfraternity Dance culminating Greek Weekend and the support of foreign students through contributing to a special fund. This year Lewis Kiss has become a member of the "Westminster Family" and is a welcome addition to the student body. Lewis' homeland is Hungary.

Interfraternity Council sponsors intramural athletics by setting the policies for fraternity competition and sponsoring the championship awards at the season's end.

The busy, pleasant days of autumn set the pace for a year filled with happy memories for the Alpha Gams. The Ag's launched a successful year by winning the first place award for Homecoming decorations with their theme, "To Express Our Welcome."

The rest of the year was filled with activity. In October the sorority girls on campus attended the annual AG Halloween Party. Mrs. G. Geldard Brigden, Grand National Secretary, visited the chapter in February. Selling candy in the dormitories was their way of raising money for a cerebral palsy fund which is part of their Altruistic program.

Alpha Gamma Delta received national scholarship recognition and won the scholarship cup on campus again this spring. Certainly the past year will be a high point in an Ag's college memories.

One of the first big events on the social calendar for Beta Sigma Omicron was an all-fraternity tea given by the pledges in the late fall. During the Christmas season the Beta Sigs enjoyed a party which the patronesses gave for the sorority. A dinner dance in February honoring the pledges was another highlight in their year of fun and hard work.

The Beta Sigs were rewarded for their enthusiasm and skill when they won the volleyball cup in the intersorority tournament.

The sorority brought the year to a close with their Ice Cream Social in the spring, an event which has always been a favorite with the sorority girls. The Beta Sigs can look back on a year of many good times and happy memories.

Houseparties, Greek Weekend, Sing and Swing, and Hamecaming kept the Chi Omegas very busy this year. In addition to these events, they had a tea for the faculty members in Ferguson Hall and entertained the national vice-president, Mrs. Lola Hanavan.

All the sorority girls thoroughly enjoyed the Chi Omega Pancake Breakfast held in the fall right around the final rush parties when all the sorority girls were in great need of a relaxing intersorority social. The happy smiles and antics of the faculty children was proof of their appreciation and fun at the annual Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the girls.

The pledges worked hard on a party held especially for the actives and their dates at Old 77 in March. All in all, the Chi O's enjoyed a full and diversified year.

With the first chill of autumn days the Kappa Delta's were ushered into a breathless round of activity. After the whirl of Homecoming they were busy preparing for the all-sorority Coffee Cozy, which lends itself very well to informal "gab sessions."

In December a coming-out party was held for the pledges in Ferguson Hall. The girls also had a terrific time at the Christmas party which Mrs. Durrast held at her home for them. The month of March saw the KD's anticipating the visit of the national counselor, Florence Tryon.

During the past summer Bev Johnson attended the National Convention at St. Louis, Missouri. The spring formal, Sing and Swing, and Greek Weekend brought the year to an end in a rush of activity and fun.

The Sig Kap's gave a party in March at the Children's Home in Mars. In addition to the Patroness Tea in October, a testimonial dinner was held for Mrs. Downs, Sigma Kappa housemother. Theta Upsilon had its share of queens this year, for Carol Paulie was chosen Alpha Sig Sweetheart at the Christmas formal. The chapter merited awards at the national convention in Edgewater Park, Mississippi.

The TU's social schedule included a Christmas party held in honor of the pledges and a party given by the pledges in honor of the actives at the Alpha Sig house in February.

The girls were always busy with various projects. Very popular with sorority girls is the "TU Donut Dunk" which is held the first weekend in February. The TU's visited the Elmira Home in New Castle and entertained with skits and songs. Remembering the past year will be a pleasure for Theta Upsilon.

The girls of Quadrangle, women's independent association, have profited greatly from this year of activity and fellowship. Their functions began with the annual tea held for the freshman women early in the fall. Later in the year an informal initiation for pledges was held during a slumber party at the home of Mrs. Cobb.

Quadrangle members will remember the fun of giving a party for the Children's Home in Mars, and the interesting talk given by Mr. Larson on art appreciation.

Selling address labels and garment grips was a project which was successful. The inter-sorority tea, "Sit and Sip," sponsored by Quadrangle in April, was another activity which called for teamwork and was loads of fun for the girls.

Quadrangle is affiliated with National Independent Student's Association.

The men of Alpha Sigma Phi launched an eventful year early last spring when they pocketed the trophy as winners in the Sing and Swing competition. Throughout the year the fraternity initiated a number of banquets at the house, the most memorable of which was the Christmas dinner given on behalf of some needy children in New Wilmington. The group participated in intramural sports and one of the members, Dale Garver, was the winner of the tennis cup.

Hard work and a great deal of ingenuity was repaid in the fall as the Alpha Sigs won first place for their Homecoming exhibit. One of the most rewarding projects of the year was the "Sandwich Runs" sponsored by the pledge class.

The year 1957-1958 will always remain a "colorful" memory for the Phi Taus. The chapter was the first on campus to acquire a color television set. In order to create the proper atmosphere for the T.V., the men undertook the job of converting their cellar into a recreation room, which proved to be their biggest project of the year.

Ranking tops in academic achievement, the fraternity received the scholarship cup last spring. The group also displayed outstanding musical ability as they captured second place standing in the 1957 Sing and Swing contest.

The men of Phi Kappa Tau attribute a favorable year to their newly adopted mascot, a buff colored dog by the name of Clyde. He is the only one who has gained tuition free knowledge in the history of the college.

Seizing the lead in campus sports, the Sigma Nu's welcomed a new school year by winning both the school and the interfraternity cups in football. Maintaining this lead, the men tied for first place in the basketball league tournament later in the season.

In February, Old 77 was transformed into a haven of hearts for the annual Sweetheart houseparty, during which the Sig Ep Sweetheart Queen was chosen. westminster-thiel

The Titans launched football season with a 12-0 victory over Thiel. Inspired by a hard-charging defense and a clicking offense, the Titan eleven easily held the Tomcats scoreless while maintaining their margin of victory.

In the first quarter Ed Härtman snatched a flat pass from Jack Bestwick to charge 58 yards for Westminster's first touchdown.

By the end of the half Syl Miele had blocked a punt with Al King scooping up the ball and racing for a second touchdown.

A strong defensive line and an effective secondary line combined to give the Blue and White its second consecutive win.

As Joe Fusco heads toward an opponent, and Syl Miele carries out a fake, o Titon ground play against Waynesburg moves ahead.

westminster-waynesburg

On a field shadowed by clouds and in a game shadowed with penalties, the Titans defeated Waynesburg at Uniontown to extend their unbeaten streak to twenty-three. Although the Yellow Jacket Line was heavier, it was also a bit loose with the rules, resulting in one hundred thirty-five yards in penalties, three of which were personal fouls.

Jack Bestwick, Titan quarterback, sparked the offense by passing for the first touchdown and running for the second. Even though this contest was not an offensive one, the Titan passing attack showed considerable promise. The Jacket attack was consistently slow, managing to make only one sustained drive early in the third period for a touchdown and extra point.

The final score stood at 13-7 as the Titans chalked up another win for the records.

A Waynesburg halfback is dumped incereமானiously by three Titan tackles.

westminster-bethany

Syl Miele tries to clear a path for Jahnnny Martin in the Homecoming game against Bethany.

The fighting eleven of Westminster added greatly to the Homecoming Festivities by downing the Bisons of Bethany 27-14 in the third game of the season.

Stealing the limelight for the Titans was Syl Miele who scored twice. In the first quarter Miele went over the line after an 18 yard run and later cashed in on another touchdown after a two-yard drive.

It was through the efforts of John Martin that any hopes of a Bethany upset were ended. He intercepted a pass from Bethany's quarterback, Willis Young and ran 33 yards for a score.

With a net gain of 313 yards on the ground and a good defense, Westminster was able to extend their winning rampage.

westminster-geneva

There was little sun, little dry field, and very little for the migration day crowd of Titan fans to cheer, as Geneva College displayed a trifle too much offense for the Titans to overcome. The Covies seemed to do nothing wrong and the Titans, virtually nothing right.

A recovery of a Titan fumble on the Westminster thirty-five yard line set up the first of two Geneva first quarter touchdowns. Willie Taylor plunged for the second Covie score. Jack Bestwick, Titan signal-caller, engineered the only first half Titan offensive drive, finally sneaking over for the first touchdown.

Geneva dominated the second half as much or more than they had done during the first. Taylor ran for his second and third touchdowns of the day, and Larry Zeh scored on a thirty-nine yard punt return. Late in the fourth period the Titans squeezed out another touchdown, making the final score 34—12. After an unbeaten streak of twenty-four games, the Titans went down to defeat.

Did he make it? A pile-up at midfield in the Geneva game.

westminster-juniata

The Titans suffered a second defeat at the hands of Juniata, 26—7. Not only was Westminster hurt in the scoring columns but also on the physical side for Bob Dunlap, Ron Opher, Dick Lane, and Ed Hartman all were injured during this gridiron play.

Westminster scored its only touchdown in the second quarter when Bestwick threw to Barnes for a 63-yard pass play and score.

The Titans faced a good Juniata team which was led by the "Barrier Brothers," who played a noteworthy game as they led the Juniata squad on to victory.

westminster-indiana

Jim Dewar and Al King lead the way as Syl Miele cuts for the first down against Slippery Rock.

On Saturday, November 2 the Titans played one of their superior games of the season, whipping Indiana State Teachers College. Once again it was quarterback Jack Bestwick showing the way; however, it was through excellent support and an alert defense that the victory was so decisive.

Late in the first quarter the Titans grabbed the lead by driving forty-two yards in eight plays to score the first touchdown of the game. The drive culminated in a pass from Bestwick to Titan Co-captain George James, who made a fine catch in the end zone.

In the second period Bestwick made a quick aerial pass to Jack Barnes, and the speedy halfback went all the way for the second score. At half time the Titans led, 13—0.

Although the Indians returned to score in the third quarter, Westminster was never in danger throughout the second half. The final score rested at Westminster 20—Indiana 7. The Synod Day crowd of a few thousand went home satisfied.

westminster-slippery rock

The setting for the Westminster-Slippery Rock gridiron clash was anything but favorable as the Titans opened their seventh game of the season.

Even the wintry cold weather could not hold the Rockets down. Despite Bestwick's splendid punting exhibition and ability to keep the Rockets deep in their own territory, the opposition succeeded in scoring two touchdowns and an extra point.

This defeat gave the Blue and White a record of 4-3. The final score, 0-13.

westminster-tech

Marking the termination of a rather hazardous season for the Titan gridders was the defeat at the hands of Carnegie Tech by a score of 26-7 at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh on November 16. Statistics showed that the game was a great deal closer than is indicated by the score. However, a few inopportune plays squelched all chances for the winning season. This closing defeat dropped the Titans to an even four win, four loss record.

Westminster drew honors early in the game when Jack Bestwick, a standout all season, passed deep into Tech territory to set up Syl Miele's twenty-two yard touchdown run.

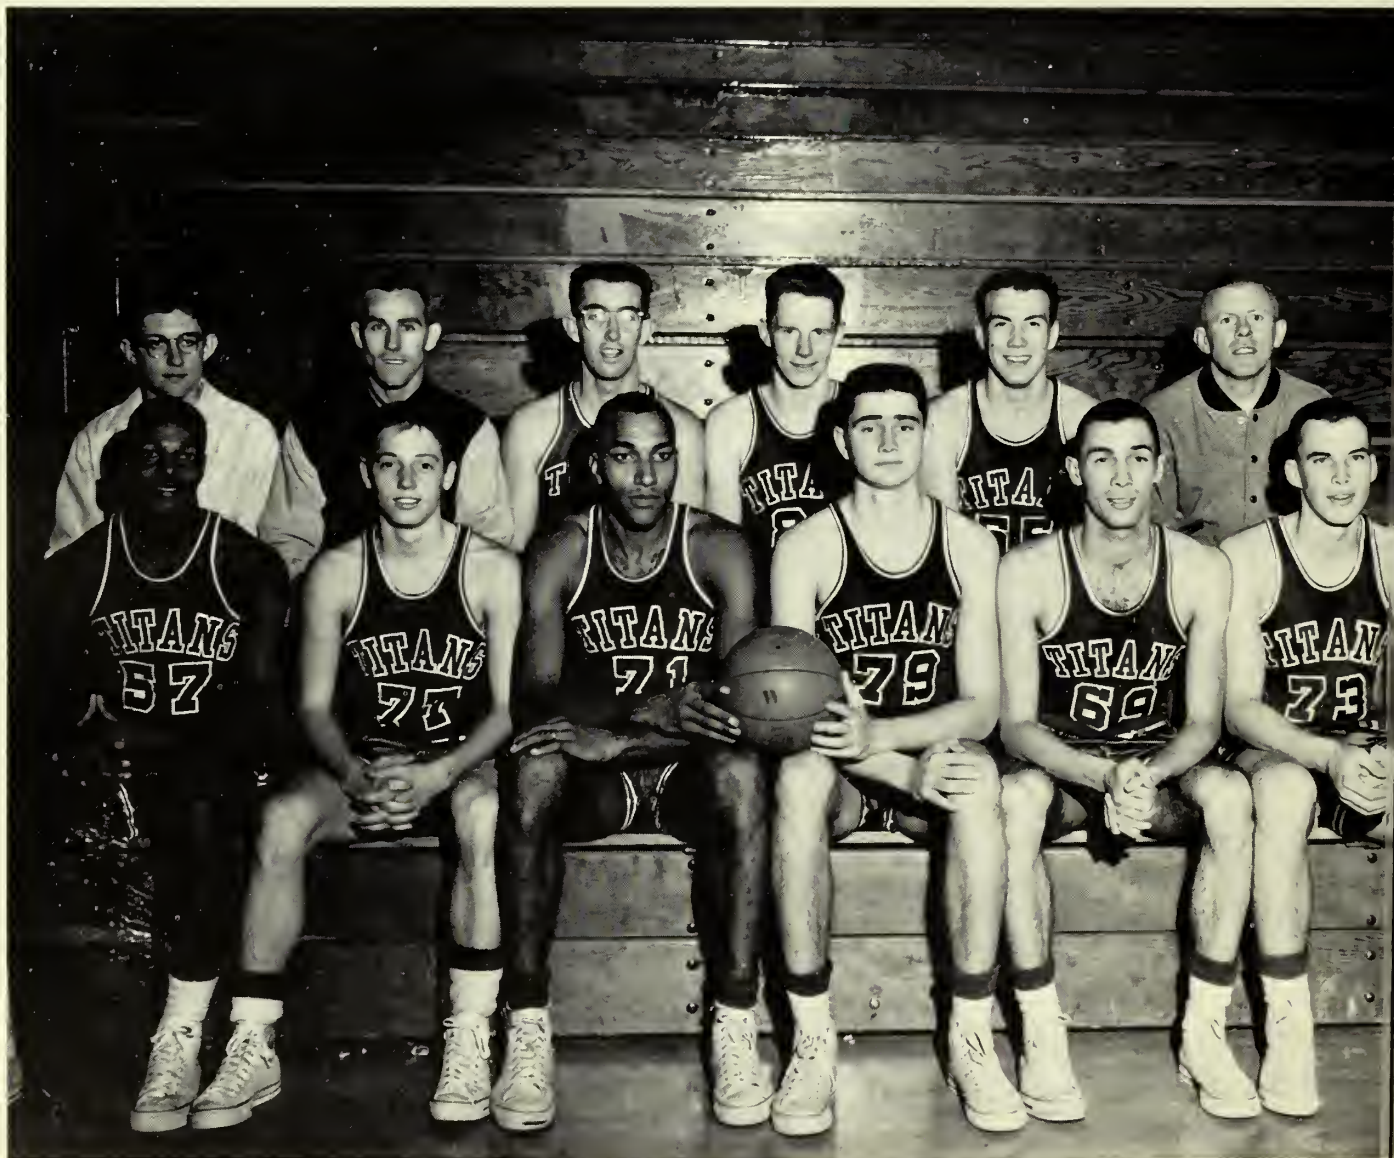

The Tartans came back to score twice in rapid succession late in the second period to capture the lead and never relinquish it. The ungracious hosts scored twice more in the second half, thus revenging themselves for the trouncing they had received the previous season.

One bright spot in the Titan season was the selection of quarterback Jack Bestwick as the NAIA district quarterback.

A study in concentration at the game against Carnegie Tech.

SEASON RECORD: 13 wins, 12 losses

Tech sandwiched as Dave Rankin, Ran Minnie, and Nick Johnson go for the rebound.

The Ridlmen of the 1957-58 season were able to come out on the winning side this year by taking thirteen games and losing twelve. The team, lacking the height of previous years, proved a menace to every team they met.

The team was spurred by the great playing of forward Dave Rankin who was a standout defensively and offensively. Giving fine support to the towering Titans were Ron Minnie, who played sparkling ball in the guard position; Terry Holupo, who handled the center position; and Mike Swonik of Wampum, Pa., who displayed some great ball handling.

Up and over for John Walker against St. Francis.

The Blue and White started off on the wrong foot when they were defeated by Kent State, 77-72. The Ridlmen had a difficult time getting started and were able to pass the Kent "five" at only one time.

Ronkin proved the big game against Kent by scoring 25 points, but this wasn't sufficient enough to catch the Kent team, who played a fast game.

The story was reversed when the Towering Titans met the highly-touted Akron University. The team had a great night scoring 45 percent of their shots. Again Ronkin led the scoring field by bucketing 26 points. Even big Ray Pryor, 6'7" center, was held down by Holupo who only allowed the big man to score 2 points. The team played a bang-up game, and the Zippers went away with a 72-55 defeat hanging over them.

The Thiel Tomcats were the next victims of the Blue and White, who won 60-54. The Titans were hampered by a lack of room on the Thiel floor, but they were still able to stay out in front all the way. Rankin, who had been injured in the previous game, scored 20 points, while Halupa guarded the boards shrewdly both offensively and defensively. Johnson and Minnie were assets with Johnson putting the icing on the cake by scoring a two-pointer in the last minute of the game.

Geneva was the next victim, on Westminster's list, for the Cavies were defeated 75-66. Ran Minnie and Nick Johnson stood out in the scoring column, each scoring 19 points. The Titans shone brightly on the home floor.

When the Titans invaded Tech's court, the tables were turned even though the game went into overtime. Westminster lost 69-68 after a thrilling rally was staged by the Redmen in the second half. However, they were unable to keep the pace and were finally defeated.

An easy lay-up for Mike Swanik, as Terry Halupa and Ran Minnie follow.

Chuckie Davis scores against Pitt.

During the Christmas holiday the Titans were at Youngstown for the National Association of Athletics Tip-Off Tourney. Here the "towering five" earned a third place. They defeated West Virginia Wesleyan in the opener, by the score of 81-77, with scoring honors going to Rankin who had 21 points and Swanik who had 23. Both of these players were named to the second team All-Tourney squad.

The Titans were stopped by Steubenville 60-50 but they went on to knock off Geneva in the consolation game by the score of 76-71. Steubenville won the tourney after downing Youngstown.

St. Francis handed Westminster its fourth defeat of the season as they towered over the Titans 76-68. Rankin led the squad by scoring 28 points, but due to the injury of Cooper and the loss of Johnson via fouls, the team couldn't counter the St. Francis team.

The Frankies scored early and stayed in the lead with Westminster only closing the gap to eight points. Height and an off-night proved the downfall of the game.

With some difficulty the Ridlmen came back against Gannon and were able to down "Isackson, Jowett and Company," 64-49. Rankin and Johnson were the big guns in scoring 19 and 15 points respectively.

The Blue and White had another off-night against "Hennon and Company" of Pittsburgh, as the Panthers handed the Titans their fifth set-back. Though Johnson sparked the team with 19 points, still the Titans couldn't catch up to Pitt. The result was Westminster 57-Pitt 72.

When Westminster entered Berea, Ohio, to face Baldwin-Wallace, they confronted with B-W's star Hawkins, who eventually led his team to a 74-67 victory. The big gun of this game was Rankin who added to his running score 26 points.

Thiel bowed again to the Titans in a swamp job, 78-54. Swanik was high scorer in this hardwood encounter with 21, and Ron Minnie pulled a close second with 19.

Pitt's Don Hennon tries unsuccessfully to steal the ball from Ron Minnie.

The Grovers gave the Titans a run for their money as they pulled out of an eight point deficit only to lose 62-60. It was Rankin's field goal that saved the game for Westminster, and provided one of the most exciting games of the season.

As the Titans played host to the neighboring Youngstown Penguins, it became evident to the fans that the Penguins finally were living up to early season expectations. The visitors were rebounding well and showed good floor play. By halftime the score stood 36-24. In the second half the Titans pulled up a little, but with four Penguin regulars hitting for double figures, they just couldn't bridge the gap. However, Mike Swanik, Titan guard, led all scorers with 20 points, as the Penguins won 79-55.

Carnegie Tech made the trip to New Wilmington only to lose a heartbreaker, as the Titans held up under pressure to win 71-69. It was nip and tuck all the way. However, in the second half, Mike Swanik's hot hand and Dave Rankin's consistency matched Tech point for point. The game was tied 69-69 as the final buzzer sounded, forcing the game into a three-minute overtime.

With Terry Halupa gaining the tip, Westminster controlled the ball during the overtime until the last few seconds, when Swanik was hacked. Swanik converted two foul shots and pulled the game out of the fire, 71-69.

Fingers through the glass, as Dan McCaig jumps against three Panthers for the rebound.

It was one of the quirks of fate which sent the Titans to the dressing room at halftime with a thirteen point lead, only to lose the game to Geneva 84-67. In the first half the Blue and White looked invincible, leading 53-40. However, as quickly as the second half started, the tide turned in the opposite direction. Dave Rankin led the Titan scorers with 22 markers, but Geneva's Don Schena dumped in 35 points to surpass everyone.

Westminster played a team out of its class the following week, meeting St. Francis in Altoona, Pa. The Frankies, a top-flight ball team, were superb defensively and offensively, as their tall rangy team controlled the boards. The Titans fell behind early in the game. The half-time score hung at 34-21 in favor of St. Francis. To add to the Titan misfortunes, Chuck Davis, Nick Johnson, and Mike Swanik fouled out in the second half. In short, the Titans were defeated but not disgraced by a very alert St. Francis team.

Two nights later the Blue and White played its best home game of the latter part of the season, whipping Juniata 68-50. Although the Titans were behind 7-0 before starting to score, they gained the lead at 16-14, and never again trailed in the game. The entire Titan squad saw action, including sophomore Chuckie Davis, who returned to the court for the first time this year. Ron Minnie led Titan scorers with 17 points, although the scoring was well distributed between the regulars.

The big stretch, as Nick Johnson contends against three St. Francis players.

Led by Herb Lake, who grabbed thirty-three rebounds to set a new record, the Youngstown quintet played host to the Titans and walked off with its second victory over them. Youngstown jumped to an early 21-9 lead and from that point were never overtaken. During the second half, Titan guard Chuckie Davis scored 16 of his 19 points to lead all Titans, contributing the only bright spot for the Blue and White. The final score was Youngstown 92-Westminster 65.

Bucknell invaded the Field House the following Friday with a sharp-shooting, fast-breaking aggregation which put on a good display of basketball. The visitors were too fast, and Bucknell was never behind after the first half. Rankin led Titan scorers with 21, but Jack Flanagan of Bucknell dropped 31 points through the hoop to lead all scorers. The final score was 80-66.

Terry Halupa and a Tech player holding hands, seemingly, in an attempt for a rebound.

Baldwin-Wallace, without its ace, Wynn Hawkins, was highly trounced by Westminster on February 18. The final score was 89-77. Although they had their typical slow start, the Titans' accurate shooting and better than usual ball handling gained the lead for them. At halftime the score stood 44-43, in favor of Westminster. Early in the second half, Mike Swanik, scoring leader for the night, scored a bucket to make the scoreboard read 58-56, and from that time on it was Westminster all the way. Dave Rankin again showed his consistency to trail Swanik by one point, getting 23 markers. The Titan team shot a good 46 percent for the night.

Against a zone defense, Captain Dave Rankin displayed a deadly shooting eye, as the Titans toyed with Slippery Rock, winning 90-63. Rankin, who received a standing ovation when he left the game, poured 39 points through the nets to break Jim Riley's old record of 38, set in 1955. Rankin's smooth one-hand push shot from outside seemed almost automatic, as he scored point after point. The Rockets were simply outclassed, and Westminster coasted to an easy victory.

Fighting back against a sixteen point deficit at one time and a couple of questionable decisions at another, Westminster came within a point of defeating the powerful Pitt Panthers, but they lost 75-74. Pitt took the lead early in the game and kept building until they had a commanding lead at halftime. But the Blue and White, led by Dave Rankin, who finished with 24 points, kept fighting until they came within one point of closing the gap as the final buzzer sounded. Nick Johnson did an outstanding job rebounding, while Pitt star, Don Hennon, led all scorers with 31 points.

Westminster finished its season in grand fashion in the Field House, defeating a hapless Grove City team 90-66. Captain Dave Rankin, the Titans' one consistent bright spot during the season dumped in 33 points to fall short of the season scoring record by only seven points. In the second half, the Titans were in complete control as Rankin demonstrated a fine variety of shots and sophomore guard Chuckie Davis put on his show of tricks which kept Grove City blinking its eyes. Senior Lou Cooper, playing his final game for the Titans, contributed eight points. Thus the Titans finished up with a winning season, twelve wins against eleven losses.

cross-country

Another record for Paul Sanders.

Although the Westminster Cross-Country team possessed one of the brightest individual stars in the district, the Titan team as a whole found competition rather stiff. The Titans managed to win only two dual meets out of eight, but freshman Paul Sanders easily established himself as the finest runner in the district, and a possibility for greater honors in the future.

On September 27 the Pitt Panthers invaded New Wilmington, easily walking off with a victory to start the Titan season off on a sour note. The Titans' Paul Sanders set a new course record of 25 minutes 29 seconds for the four and one-half mile run, but Pitt nailed down the next four positions to win the meet.

The following week the Titan thinclads journeyed to Washington, Pennsylvania for a dual meet with Washington-Jefferson, this time achieving better results. With Paul Sanders again leading the field, the Titans won their first meet. Acy Jackson captured third place and Dan Mitchell, fourth. Once again Sanders set a new record of 31 minutes 16 seconds for the somewhat longer five and quarter mile course.

After an eleven day vacation, the Titans went back to a losing record at Oberlin, Ohio. On a wet, rainy day the Oberlin athletes defeated the Titans although Sanders took home his third consecutive first place honor. The record stood at one win and two losses.

The Covenanters from Geneva hosted Westminster on October 22, and they proved to be rather ungracious hosts. Paul Sanders suffered his first loss of the season, and Geneva took first, third, fourth, and sixth places. Acy Jackson placed fifth in the race.

Three days later the Titans came back home to suffer their fourth defeat at the hands of Carnegie Tech. However, the Titans made a little better showing with Sanders taking first place, followed by Jackson in third, and Ron Mitchell in seventh.

The Titans took to the hills for their next meet, as the Mountaineers from West Virginia were too strong for the Pennsylvanians. However, Paul Sanders set another course record at Morgantown by running the race in 23 minutes, 20 seconds to capture individual honors.

After a long period since their last victory, the Titans got back on the winning trail on November 1 by defeating Slippery Rock on the Titan home course, Sanders again captured first place, but he received much better support as the Titans improved on their season's record.

In the last dual meet of the season, Paul Sanders broke his own course record, but Grove City handed the Titans their sixth defeat against two wins. Sanders, the one bright star of the season, ran the course in 25 minutes, 42 seconds.

Sanders also won the Tri-State meet at Slippery Rock, establishing a new meet record of 25 minutes 50 seconds.

On November 30 Sanders entered the NAIA Cross-Country Championships at Omaha, Nebraska. Although only a freshman, he placed seventh in a field of eighty-five runners.

R. Mitchell, A. Byers, P. Sanders chalk one up for the Titans.

Hard workouts and old veterans were the underlying factors in this year's swimming team. Though the team's record was 4—5, still the Titans proved themselves a top outfit in the 1957—58 season.

Of last year's starters, six lettermen returned; Captain Ken Wessel, sprinter Bob Coleman and distance men Bill Armour, Bud Grip, and Jim Corbett, and diver Paul Lococo.

The Titans got off to a slow start as they lost their first meet to Slippery Rock, 55—31. Their sole first place was a victory in the 440 yard free-style for the team of Armour, McClure, Coleman, and Wessel.

When the Tankmen met Grove City, they were defeated, 57—29. Bill Armour won the 440 yard free-style event, and Rod Willis and Jim Corbett took first and second in the 200 yard backstroke.

Once again at Slippery Rock, the Titans were defeated, 56—30. The Blue and White took the 400 yard medley relay with Willis, Wessel, Corbett, and Coleman on the winning team. Bill Armour stood out by winning both the 220 and 440 yard free-style events.

In Skibo pool at Carnegie Tech the Titans lost, 63—23. Armour and Willis placed first and second in the 200 yard backstrokes and the team of Wessel, McClure, Coleman, and Armour took the 440 yard free-style race.

The Titans first victory was over West Virginia University, 63—19. The Tankmen captured the 400 yard medley, 60 yard free-style, diving honors, 200 yard butterfly, and the 200 yard breast stroke. McClure placed in three events and the whole team did an outstanding job.

Westminster was downed at Fenn, 44—42, but two records were set: one by Al Rose in the 100 yard butterfly event and one by the team of Willis, Wessel, Rose, and Coleman in the 400 yard medley race.

The Titans won their last three meets by defeating Washington and Jefferson, 46—39, Allegheny, 55—31, and Grove City, 54—32.

At W. & J., Bud Grip took the 400 yard free-style and placed second in the 220 yard free-style. Al Rose set another school record at W. & J. in the 220 yard butterfly event.

It was McClure and Rose who set the pace in the Allegheny meet as the former took both the 60 and 100 yard free-style events and the latter set another record in the 220 yard butterfly.

In the second meet against Grove City, it was the chief men of Wessel in diving, McClure in the 100 yard free-style, and Willis in the 200 yard backstroke that helped carry the Titan men to victory.

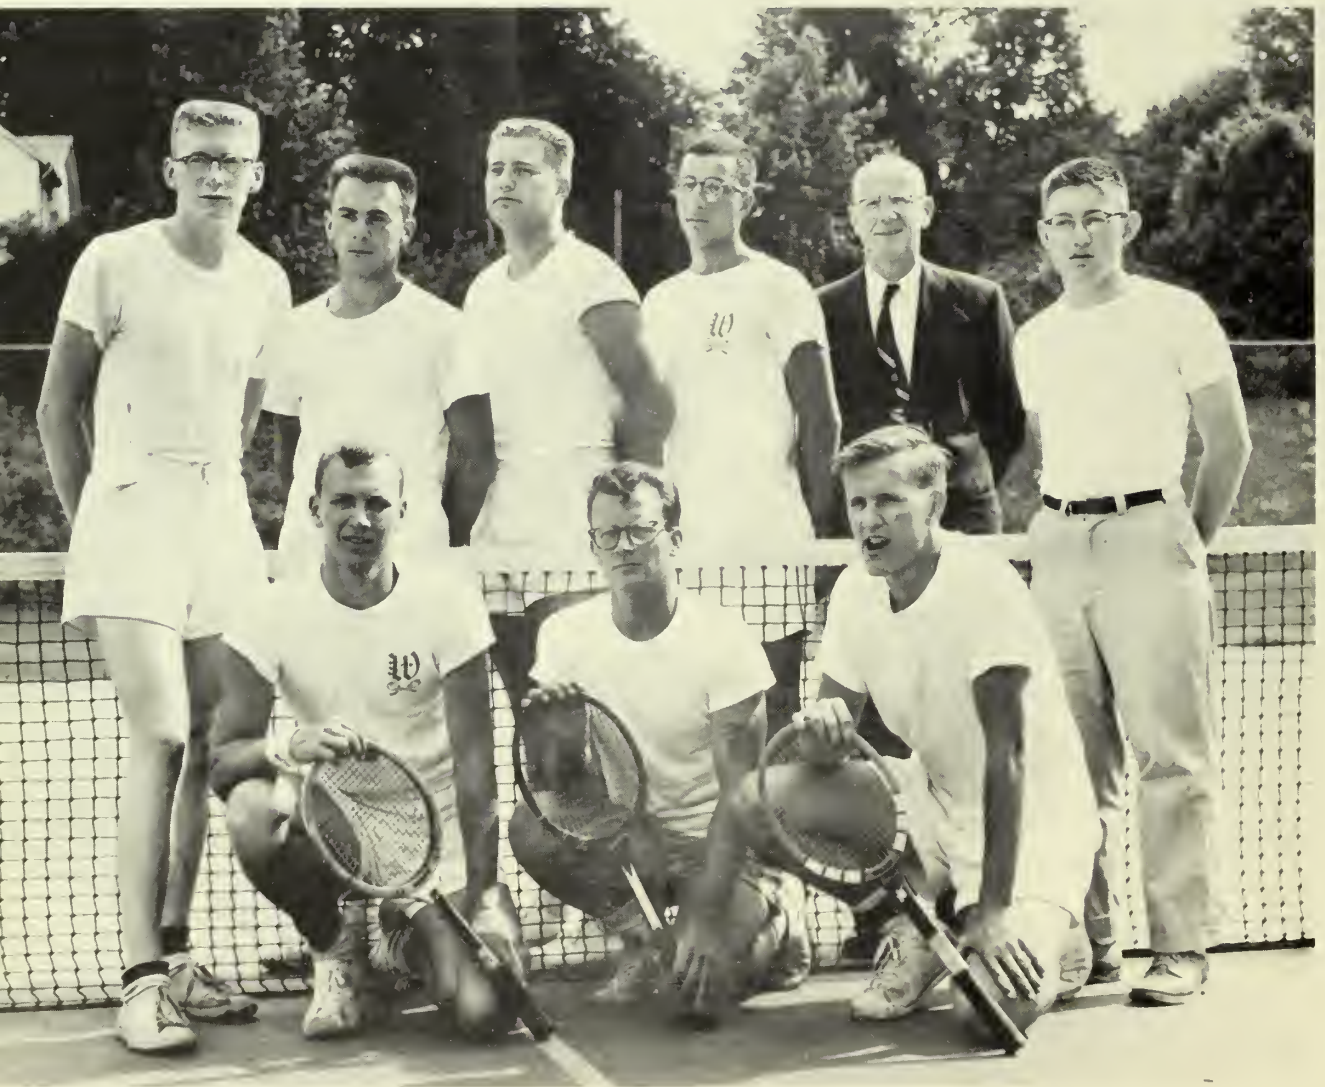

At the annual Penn-Ohio Meet at Carnegie Tech, the Titans placed fifth with outstanding work being done by Wessel, Grip, Rose, and Armour. Carnegie Tech was the winner of this year's meet.
